Fourth Action is committed to recognising and providing what learners need and want:

The right to speak up.

The right to have support.

The right to have the chance to make friends, and to have fun learning.

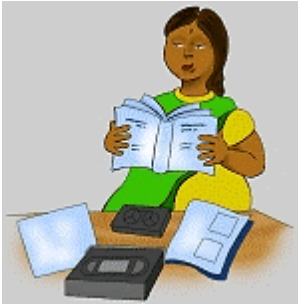

The right not to be bullied, and to be treated with respect.

Fourth Action Learner Charter

The right to have clear information that we can understand

The right to have good learning experiences and to learn things that help us make progress.

The right to learn in a nice and safe place, and to get in the door.
